[AMDA Nepal Medical Relief #4: Rasuwa- Bhote Koshi Flood in Nepal]

On October 7, 2026, marking the third operational day of the emergency medical camp in Uttargaya Rural Municipality, Rasuwa District, team activities started at approximately 9:00 AM. Due to the unavailability of suitable accommodation and food facilities near the Bogititar camp site, the AMDA medical team is residing 10 km away in Kalika Rural Municipality, traveling daily to provide healthcare services.

During Day 3 operations, the medical team examined and provided consultation, treatment, and medications to 32 local patients suffering from various flood related acute illnesses and chronic conditions.

Throughout Day 3, the medical team worked in seamless coordination with local health-unit staff and local authorities. Crucial strategic discussions were held with Health In-charge of Uttargaya Rural Municipality, regarding the further plans and continuation of medical and health-related activities in the affected area. Discussions focused on the needs of the local community and the best possible way to coordinate future support and services.
